I'm not good at handling things or writing out docs so this is going to be poorly written but it's the only way of saying anything.

Im sorry how i handled the aftermath of everything i didnt wanna admit i was wrong always acting like nothing could ever hurt me telling people “they were making up shit” i really didnt wanna accept i fucked up again and tried my best to make myself look like an angel so people would forget about it constantly brushing everything off seeming like i dont care about anything ive done,

I apologize to zero and joody for drawing porn of both of you i drew porn of joody as a revenge act cause i was pissed at her for outing me for sexually harassing her and i wanted to get back at her for it and the only thing i could think of was drawing porn of her because it hurts people the most emotionally, when asking me why i did it before i’d always respond with “i dont know” thats because i didn't wanna say my reasoning cause it’d make me look stupid, i drew porn of zero just because i was a freak i wish i didn't do any of this it was all going fine everyone forgot about what i did and i was forgiven but no i just had to get my revenge apparently,

Im sorry joody for sexually harassing you i was a dumb kid and rape jokes were accepted in my old group chat so i thought things like this were completely fine i was very uneducated in the topic of rape which caused that, my reason behind choosing you to send those messages to was because you were the most sexually attractive to me at the time.

I'm sorry to everyone who had a lot of trust in me and thought i changed for the better just for me to get outed as a weirdo again, i apologize if i caused any sort of trauma to anyone around me or ruined any projects i was working on at the time, it's fine if you don't accept my apology i deserve it my parents never punished me properly for everything i caused and just let me off the hook even though it happened 3 times it's clear they were doing something wrong but didn't care anyway.

I am willing to talk to anyone who feels like i've wronged them in the past or now, you can ask me questions about other things i did not cover in this doc so far and ask me to apologize for it i don't have good memory and i've mostly forgotten everything that happened around this time i'm just working off of images old direct messages or messages sent in group chats.
